

Raised with a brother and sister in Kentucky, Ohio, and Texas, Allen was brought to a living faith in the Lord by his mother and her friends. He felt a call to ministry early on but wandered away (Texas is a BIG state) only to be found again on the riversides of North Carolina. He loves the one who saved him and nothing gives him more pleasure than sharing the name of Jesus. He wants to see Jesus lifted up, the Holy Spirit empowering people, and the Father adored. His goal in life is to see a New Testament church where the members "attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." He serves as the pastor of the Anglican Church of Livonia and as a network leader in Michigan for an Anglican church planting movement. He and his wife Lisa live in Livonia where they are raising their three children Nicholas, Mary, and Jonathan.
