

Allen,

I have heard the news and had the honor of reading your letter to your former bishop. I am burdened with work deadlines today, but you are in my thoughts and prayers. So much to say.

Be strong in the Lord, it is in him that we trust. Be quick to love and slow to condemn so that you may be above reproach in this time when many people will be watching you.

I look forward to catching up with you when you can.

Your hopeful brother,
Greg
